Center To Be Used For School

HERE ARE INTERIOR SHOTS of two kindergarten classrooms in schools of the Jefferson elementary school district. One picture was taken in the new Westlake school, the other in the older General Pershing school. The reader hardly needs to be told which is which. The over-crowded conditions which prevail in the older schools will be partially remedied by the new building program, but officials say the problem cannot be completely done away with unless the voters approve a tax rate increase for the district. ## Council Elects Green For 3rd Term As Mayor

Rumor Of Mayor's Resignation Fails To Materialize

Dennis & Verducci Installed On Council

What might have been a political bomb shell turned out to be a dud Tuesday evening, as amid flowers, smiles and well wishes the new city council took over the reigns of government.

The supposed bomb shell was to have been the resignation of Mayor Paul Green. Early last week such rumors were floating gently around town. The resignation was to have taken place Tuesday evening.

Mayor Green was quick to kill these rumors. He emphatically denied them, noting he would stay mayor as long as the council so desired.

And the council did "desire."

Tuesday evening the new councilman Joseph Verducci made a motion to nominate Green as mayor for his third term. This was seconded by Councilman Jim Kennedy. A moment later Councilman A. J. Gaggero moved that the nominations be closed. This seconded by the second new councilman, Edward J. Dennis.

Mayor Green is still Mayor Green.

Sunderland Asks Board's Answer

Chief Wants To Know Whether Job Still His

W. W. Sunderland today told THE RECORD he would demand a direct "yes" or "no" answer from the Daly City civil service board of review when he appears before it Friday night in an effort to get his job back as chief of police.

Last August Sunderland went on sick leave, and in the wake of several bookie raids here indicated he would retire April 1. However, he changed his mind and when he tried to get his job back he was rejected by the city council.

Sunderland indicated he wanted to get the direct answer from the board of review for two reasons:

1. Any delay will hold up his decision as to whether or not he will take his case to the superior court. This step can not be taken until all local sources of appeal have been exhaused.

2. Delay will mean Sunderland will loose approximately $214 each month from his retirement pay. He was entitled to draw retirement as of April 1, but can not do so

Judge Thomas Bocci today released the names of those who have acted as his sponsors on his nomination papers filed on behalf of his candidacy for municipal judge.

The group consists of many of the leading citizens of the community, and are strong indications of the fine reputation Judge Bocci has gained during his tenure on the bench.

Six Residents Sue Daly City For Flood Damage

Assert City Negligent In Protecting Homes

Banding together in an effort to collect money for damage allegedly done their homes during January floods, six Concordia district residents have filed claims against Daly City totaling $21,535.

Claims stem from flood waters which swept down from the Crocker hills and covered yards and basements in the vicinity of the 100 block of Frankfort and Bellevue and Whittier January 25.

The residents assert much of the damage resulted from negligence on the part of the city in keeping drains open and failure to provide suitable emergency measures.

In addition to actual damage done each home, all of the residents are claiming $2,500 each for "distress in body and mind" during the flood period.

Home owners involved, who are represented by John A. Putkey, 821 Market street, include: Ray Taber, 184 Frankfort, $4,180; George M. Schaumleffel, 172 Frankfort, $3,300; William Dale, 176 Frankfort, $3,300; Norma Arnold, 180 Frankfort, $3,515; John Morello, 273 Belevue, $3,620; S. Q. Eastman, 331 Whittier, $3,000.

The city repected all the claims and referred the matter to City Attorney Frank Blum.

Mayor Paul Green explained this is always done in such cases, and the city cannot be held responsible for "An Act of God." He said the city's insurance company would take over the case and examine the pros and cons of the residents' claims.

Other business before the council included:

Fontana Wins High School Job Without Election

Markovich Withdraws And Fontana Steps In

Elio A. Fontana, 34-year-old Colma monument works manufacturer, will be the new member of the Jefferson high school board of trustees, May 16.

He has won the post by default. Until this Monday there were three in the running for the two seats on the school board. They included Fontana, Mrs. Ann Eason and Peter Markovich.

Monday, Markovich announced he would not seek reelection. Wednesday, was the last day for filing for the position. No one had filed but Mrs. Eason and Fontana.

Thus, in one of the strangest chains of circumstances in the history of Daly City, a candidate has won a public office four weeks before an election.

Markovich told THE RECORD today that he had withdrawn from the school board in order to devote all his energy and time to winning a seat in the state assembly.

"I informed all interested par-

Council Favors Day Class Plan

Daly City's Community Center building soon will be used for classrooms.

This is the consensus of opinion of city councilmen contacted today. They agree the building at Alp and Mission streets should be utilized during the day for Jefferson elementary students.

A request for such use was made at the regular city council meeting Monday evening by the Jefferson elementary school board.

Definite action was delayed until the new floor is put down in the auditorium. "The carpenters' strike has delayed this, but as soon as it is completed, the council will have an answer for the school board."

Although the building is not completed, there are several rooms which may be available for school rooms. They are the auditorium, lobby, and mezzanine.

However, the real stumbling block may be the matter of heating. The city still has to put in a $65,000 heating plant, and it is doubtful if this could be done without voters passing a $150,000 bond issue to complete structure.

Possibility of an auxiliary heating plant has still to be explored.

Other questions, as to what grades would occupy the rooms, how much the school district would pay the city, and what provision would be made for use of the building by adults during the evening hour, must be worked out.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, said he doubted if the county or state would object to such a move. "As long as facilities are up to standard, there should be no real reason why the school district could not use the building."

Councilmen appeared to be highly in favor of the school using the building.

"Part of my election platform was recreation and education," Councilman Joe Verducci said

Could Dutch Queen Be Unaware Of Our Daly City?

Daly City's mayor, Paul Green, was wondering today if he and this community had been snubbed by royalty.

Mayor Elmer Robinson of San Francisco had said no "snub" of San Mateo officialdom was intended in welcome arrangements for Queen Juliana of The Netherlands tonight, April 17, at Mills Field. He further said all mayors in San Mateo county were invited to the reception for the queen and Prince Bernhardt at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco Friday evening.

When asked about this, Green said, "I know nothing about any such invitation." The local mayor said he had received no communication concerning Queen Juliana, and the city had not been asked to participate in the reception in any way. The Queen won't even pass through the town.

Earlier in the week county officials and mayors on the Peninsula had noted what seemed to be a slight by San Francisco in preparations for the arrival of the royal party. Robinson hotly denied any such slight.

But, as of today, no invitation for Green.

Backers List Reasons Why Voters In School District Need Tax Increase

By Stan Bibbero

Voters in the Jefferson elementary school district will be asked May 16 to approve a boost in the tax rate from 93 cents to $1.53 cents per $100 assessed valuation. This will be the first time in five years the district has asked for a tax rate increase.

According to H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, and others backing the proposed increase, this boost is badly needed by the district.

There are plenty of facts and figures available to prove to the recalcitrant voter that the district needs more money in order to operate efficiently. But, it all boils down to the fact that without this money the children will suffer. It's a matter of simple economics. It takes money to educate a child. The more children to be educated, the more money it takes.

Since World War II California has grown tremendously. People from all parts of the country have moved to this area. A big crop of war babies was born. These children are now entering our school systems at a terrific rate—most of them approaching the kinder-

Citizens Call For Tax Hike

Say It's Necessary For Local Schools

An enthusiastic group of citizens attended a meeting held last night to discuss the tax rate limit elections to be held on May 16.

A surprisingly large number of representatives of various organizations attended the meeting at which Mr. George S. Pingry acted as chairman.

H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent of the Jefferson elementary school district, explained the problems of the schools, the great increase in their enrollment and operating costs.

Price Resigns As Colma's Mayor

Pressing Business Given For Move

Jack Price this week resigned as mayor of Colma, a post which he has held for the past two years.

Price, who is superintendent of Olivet Memorial Cemetery, said "business requires every minute of my time," and he no longer had the time to devote as mayor. Price also stepped out of the city council where he has been active for the past six years.

Political dopesters say that John Newton, two-year member of the council, will be the next mayor.

It is anyone's guess who will be appointed councilman to fill out Price's term.

Price's resignation took effect Wednesday, and it is expected his successor will be named shortly.

Mrs. Angelo Barea has contributed to the San Mateo county blood bank recently, it has been announced. It was her first donation.

C. of C. Seeks New Members

A move is underway today to "recruit" members for a Daly City chamber of commerce.

Success or failure of the new venture will depend to a great degree on how much interest is expressed by local business men, Mrs. Van Over, chamber leader, said today.

The first meeting to form an organization was held at the Club Casino, 6192 Mission street, last Thursday evening. The meeting was attended by local civic leaders, businessmen and city officials. Noticeably absent was any representative from the Westlake area.

The meeting was hailed generally as a success. When over, a by-laws and membership committee had been organized.

In selection of committees, the group was careful to see that no political leaders were appointed.

"In the past the one thing that has ruined such groups has been politics," an audience member said. "We are determined this chamber will be run and operated by the people at large, not by any single clique."

Another audience member pointed out that more people would have attended had they thought it would be free of politics.

"I can assure you this is going to be a non-political, non-bias chamber," Mrs. Van Over said. It will be for only one thing—to assure prosperity for local businessmen and residents."

Necessity of forming a chamber was sounded by Mrs. Van Over

OFFICER DEAN WOODS NABS TIRED INTRUDER

Mighty is the arm of the law. So says Mrs. M. Cole, 322 Bellmar, today.

She witnessed officer Dean Wood bravely capture an elusive culprit who had sneaked into her kitchen Wednesday afternoon.

Stalwart Woods, armed only with his hat and a tenacious courage, flitted from stove to table in a desperate effort to nab the intruder. Although he narrowly escaped being cut down, Woods fought on to victory.

With a lunge that would have done a bullfighter proud, the indomitable officer threw his hat over a tired, panting and slightly amazed bumble bee.

Woods popped the bee into a jar, put on his hat and marched out of the house. They are now calling him "Bring 'Em Back Alive" Woods.

SCHOOL BOARD MEET SLATED THURSDAY

The last meeting of the current Jefferson elementary school board will be held Thursday evening, April 24, at the administration building, 344 Santa Barbara avenue.

The meeting is open to the public and gets underway at 8 p.m.

When the board convenes again it will be after the May 16 election, at which time voters will either return Mrs. Helen Cheatham to the board or elect a new member.

Educational Problems

This year alone in Daly City schools, 625 kindergarten children are being handled. Next year it is estimated the figure might reach 750. Double sessions now are necessary.

The people of this district last year voted a bond issue to help care for these additional children. A new building program has been started. Site acquisitions are going on now, and plans have been worked out for additional buildings and classrooms. Work has started on a new Garden Village addition.

But—this money is only being used for building purposes. There is a great deal more to educating a child than just providing a building for him. And, as noted before, this costs money.

The tax rate in Daly City has been extremely low as compared to other cities and towns in the Peninsula. Just as an example, the tax rate in San Carlos is $2, in San Mateo $2.26, in Burlingame $1.87, in Ravenwood $2.43.

The tax rate for the Jefferson district has been 93 cents. Quite a contrast.

There are 3,000 students in this district to be educated. They are not receiving adequate care. This is a fact, and not just an opinion. A special school administrators' group studied the situation in California, then set up a series of standards which should be met by all districts. These administrators—who are noted for being cautious people—did not set up an ideal program. It is one which barely meets adequate standards.

The local system can't meet these standards. Why? There just isn't enough money in the budget. Just as an example, there should be one doctor for every 4,000 students. We have none. There should be one nurse for each 1000 children. This district has one nurse for 3000 children. There is no psychologist in the district. Library facilities here are far from adequate. In fact, they are away below standard. Not enough money is being spent to insure proper maintenance. Transportation is a definite problem, and it costs money to buy busses.

Here's an important item. Based on an estimated increase of students in the district, officials say approximately 19 new teachers will be needed next year. While teachers here receive fair wages, in comparison with other towns of equal size, the trend is currently for increases in salaries. Right now the county association of teachers is putting on a drive for further increases. School districts must have properly trained and accredited teachers. They represent the backbone of the entire system. It's a competitive market, and in order to insure getting the best, this district will probably have to go along with the trend.

Here's another thing to consider. Every man and woman living today knows about inflation. He knows the buying power of his dollar has decreased.

In line with this thought, it has been shown that $1.80 per $100 assessed valuation would be needed here today in order to equal the purchasing power provided by a 90 cent tax rate in effect in 1940. The district is not asking for $1.80—but only for $1.53.

A school district receives its revenue from two main sources—money apportioned by the state based on average daily attendance, and money raised through taxes in the district.

Total state aid received for the 1951-52 year amounted to $326,417, including basic aid, equalization aid, and a few other amounts. The budget for that period was set at $554,320. The people in the district made up the difference.

That budget simply was not adequate.

Figures based on an estimated assessed valuation of $25,000,000 show that with a tax rate of 93 cents, the district would receive $220,930. If, however, the increase goes through, the district will receive $363,466—an increase based on the estimated valuation of $142,536. State apportionment for next year is estimated at $375,516.

This would make possible a total budget of approximately $738,000—which could do the job.

One thing officials want to point out. At present we receive in this district state aid, based on average daily attendance, of $136 per pupil. With the increase in the tax rate, this figure would drop to $119 per pupil, since the district would then be moved to a different categorie.

Realizing the need for this tax rate, a group of citizens has banded together to form a citizens' committee—for the purpose of getting the facts before the public. The first meeting of this committee was held Wednesday night. (See story on this page.)

Officials in the school district are confident that once the people realize the need for this increase they will go to the polls May 16 and vote it in.

tics of my intention in plenty of time for them to file for the school board election," Markovich said. "However, it appears no one else was interested in seeking the post."

Fontana had fired his opening guns about three weeks ago, when he flooded the area with posters and post cards. He had fully intended to put up a stiff fight for the school board job, and all indications are that he had no idea he would walk in without a battle.

The new school board trustee is a veteran of World War II, a graduate of Jefferson high school and former president of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club.

Meanwhile, it appears today it may be a tougher race in the Jefferson elementary school board election.

Mrs. Helen Cheatham, veterar member of the board, has announced she will seek re-election. Opposing her will be Claude Hanrahan, Broadmoor man who has lost out at school board elections three consecutive times.

Citizens Call For Tax Hike

Stanford Hannah, district superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District, also spoke briefly on the high school situation. The board of trustees of the high school is asking the people to continue the present tax rate limit of $1.35 which was set five years ago for a five year period.

The elementary district is asking for an increase of the limit to $1.50 per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

The second meeting of the citizens' committee is to be held at the high school at 8 p.m. Monday, April 28. All interested persons are invited.

until he files. This filing must be done before the end of each month, or he looses that month's pay.

The change on the city council has apparently had no effect on Sunderland's decision in the case.

"I haven't given up fighting by far," Sunderland said today.

It is expected the board of review will reject Sunderland's appeal for his job.

Sunderland said he still has to make up his mind as to what course of action to take after the Friday night refusal.

Sagehorn Endorses Republican Dinner

With municipal elections now in the record books, major political interest switched this week to the June 3 primary elections and particularly to the four-way battle for the post of San Mateo county's first U. S. Congressman.

There were two developments of note from the headquarters of County Treasurer Al Sagehorn.

"Joe" Maden of San Bruno was named to head a special Sagehorn Congressional Committee among all county veteran's organizations. It was pointed out by the new chairman that Sagehorn had earned many vet friends by his work as president of the Peninsula committee, which anually raises funds to buy Christmas gifts for hospitalized veterans; as a member of the Elks Association Bay district veteran's service committee; and through active membership in the Coast Guard league's Peninsula chapter.

In the other major Sagehorn event this week, the candidate himself publicly endorsed the Republican party's scheduled $100 plate campaign fund-raising dinner in May.

"History has never recorded a year in which the nation needed more a complete change of federal administration," Sagehorn commented, "but it will take lots of money to wage successful campaigns for all Republican candidates in our county—after all, the New and Fair Deals have so increased federal payrolls that 17½ million people now receive government checks, one out of every nine persons in the nation!"

Local Schools Ask For State Aid

County Teachers Back Move To Get Funds

Plans to sponsor a State constitutional amendment to assure public schools additional funds, principally for needy local school districts, were backed today by leaders of the San Mateo County Teachers Association.

Announcement of the proposed amendment was made at the close of a two-day convention of the California Teachers Association at Asilomar this weekend (ended April 12), attended by Victor G. Binsacca, president, Dan K. Tilley, vice-president, Marjorie Reandeau and William J. Justice, of the executive board of the San Mateo County Teachers Association.

Under the proposed constitution change, school districts will receive increased funds from the state during the 1953-54 school year, first effective year of the amendment.

"Such an amendment is of great importance to every school district in San Mateo county and is vital to districts now operating on marginal school funds," it was stated by County Association president Victor Binsacca today. "With San Mateo county's school population showing a phenomenal growth each year, our schools must have adequate financing to provide for the proper education of the children of our county."

The proposed amendment could result in a lower property tax rate for San Mateo county residents, at the same time helping to provide funds for more schools, enlargement of present facilities, and hiring of additional teachers to relieve present half-day schedules.

At present, the minimum guarantee of State aid per average daily attendance is $90.00 with a maximum of $120.00, as written into the Constitution in 1946. The proposed minimum would be $120.00 as the basic guarantee with an equalization figure for needy districts of $180.00.

Under the present program, for example, Hillsborough School District receives State funds amounting to $90.00 per average daily attendance, Burlingame School District $96.00 and the Jefferson elementary School District, which has had a high increase in school population, $131,59.

Under the amendment as proposed, districts such as Jefferson would be eligible for State funds amounting to $180.00 to alleviate crowded facilities and help provide badly needed teachers in the rapidly growing elementary schools.

Council Favors Day Class Plan

today. "And I plan to carry out these promises. It appears to me this is a step in the right direction."

As a side issue of the discussion Monday night, a representative of VFW Post No. 2044, Daly City, had some questions regarding the Community Center. Addressing himself to Mayor Green, R. F. Brulez asked:

"When was the bond issue passed to build the Center?"

"The latter half of 1949," Mayor Green said.

"What happened to the committee of veterans organizations, parents groups and others who helped to put over that bond issue? Why were they never consulted as to the building's progress?" Brulez asked.

"We have been in touch with individuals and different groups of that committee. But since the bond issue passed the committee has no real function."

"What is holding up completion of the building?" Brulez asked.

"The carpenters' strike."

"Oh, that's the new excuse. It couldn't be lack of money could it?" Brulez said.

"Don't get smart with me, I'll get smart right back at you," Green replied.

Brulez sat down. Later he told THE RECORD that this veterans group was not satisfied as they had never been thanked for work they had done to pass the bond issue, or consulted as to the progress of the structure.

In conclusion, Mrs. Helen Cheatham asked if the city plans to hire a full time recreation director when the Community Center is completed.

"That is up to the Recreation Commission," Mayor Green said.

(The Commission has long favored such an action, and it is expected such a director will be hired.)

when she noted that Daly City is being surrounded by modern shopping centers.

"Unless we do something to attract local and surrounding business we are going to die," Mrs. Van Over said.

However, in the past Daly City has not done too badly. Fred Jacobsen, state chamber of commerce official, told the group that Daly City's population has jumped from 8,625 to over 15,000 in the past 10 years.

"And in 1950 the retail sales here was over 13½ million dollars, not counting real estate," Jacobsen said. This represents a 300 per cent gain since 1940."

He added, however, the sales might have been even greater had the businessmen done something to encourage more trade.

Ken Brown, business manager and secretary of the San Mateo chamber of commerce, said the principal reason ventures of this type fail is "negative thinking."

"What is needed is a positive program, a spirit of cooperation, and an honest desire to help the community," Brown said.

While no definite program was outlined for a local chamber, the by-laws committee is going to present a general outline at the next meeting, May 8.

Members of this committee include: Bill Kennedy, chairman; John Ferrari, Thomas Tromborg, Charles Van Horn, Frank Lombardi, Dan Harris, and Joe Firpo.

All those who attended the first meeting were organized into a membership committee. This group will bring one to 15 new members to the next meeting.

Judge W. J. Sweeney is in charge of recruiting automobile dealers and Joe Rohl will attempt to arouse interest among Westlake business men.

Dan Andersen has been appointed temporary publicity chairman.

Community Center Should Be Used For School

A suggestion made by THE RECORD many months ago appears now to be a definite possibility...utilizing the Community Center building during the day for class rooms.

The Jefferson elementary school board has made a request for such use to the city. The city council appears to favor the request, and little stands in the way but the completion of the first half of the building. (When the rest of the Center is to be finished will depend on voters when they are again asked to pass a bond issue for the job.)

It is also possible that "rent" paid for the building by the school district could be applied to a fund to help complete the structure.

We can seen no conceivable objection to the children using the structure, especially as this may alleviate the growing class room problem here. With the rapid growth of the district and the recent cutting of state funds for construction, it is a foregone conclusion that more and more classes will go on "swing shift" next year unless additional quarters are furnished. The Community Center offers these quarters.

Holding school in the building during the day will in no way impair activities of oldsters during the evening hours. It may be a bit inconvenient, but we suggest this inconvenience is a small thing when compared to a child's education.

We only hope plans for the classrooms do not bog down in the red tape that has held up the construction of the Community Center for lo, these many years.

Daly City And A Chamber Of Commerce

It appears today that Daly City may have an active chamber of commerce. Thanks to the good sense and foresight of local businessmen (and women) plans are now underway to set up such a chamber.

THE RECORD has long advocated such a body. It is certain that unless some action is taken toward bringing trade to Daly City many a business is going to suffer. And, in turn, the whole town will feel the plight of its merchants.

As one speaker put it at the first meeting of those interested in a chamber, "negative thinking is the only thing that will defeat our effort."

Unfortunately there has been far too much "negative thinking" here on all our parts. Too many are too eager to forget the "outside world;" and to carry on as usual. And for that matter, the word "cooperation" has been all but forgotten when it comes to moves for civic betterment.

Politics, too, has played a leading role in defeating collective efforts for a better business district. Daly City is peculiar in that many a businessman stands or falls on his politics, regardless of the consequences to him or his business. This has been the seed of dissention which has grown and snuffed out former attempts at organization.

We are glad to see that both politics and negative thinking have been, verbally at least, cancelled out in the most recent move for a chamber of commerce. Those who met Thursday night were quick to recognize the difficulty and just as firm in their desire to accomplish a positive program.

It is to be hoped that all others connected with future plans of a chamber will show the common sense displayed by these "founders."

Let us all unite in a sincere effort to help ourselves and our community. Let's get behind this effort to form a chamber of commerce, and di all we can to assure its success.

Let's leave negative thinking and politics out of the foundation stone of the Daly City chamber of commerce.

Parking Meters And The Economy

We see where a businessman back east has refused to pay a parking meter fine, claiming the meters are violating his constitutional rights.

To-date he has carried the case to the superior court and is now on the way to the state supreme court. Should this fail he threatens to go to the federal supreme court.

He has received little encouragement from the courts so far, and it looks like he may have to ante-up the $1 fine after all.

However, it is interesting to speculate on what may happen if he wins his case before the highest court in the land. This would be to the delight of several local residents we know who are still fighting the meters in Daly City.

A decision in favor of the recalcitrant motorist would play havoc with the economy of not only Daly City, but of a good many other larger towns. As much as we may curse the meters, there is no denying they are a good source of revenue...a source, which if cut off, would have to come from the taxpayers' pocket.

We can't help but admire the gentleman for fighting for what he believes are his rights, but we sincerely hope he doesn't win. Somehow it is more painless to pay by dropping pennies in slots than by footing it in a larger tax bill.

Who Pulled The Boner?

We would like to know who pulled the boner over the Westlake water reduction valve.

Some time ago it was agreed the pressure from the local water system was too great for Westlake homes. Consequently, there was a need for a valve to reduce this pressure.

The city council gave the engineer orders to draw up plans for the valve. This was duly done, and bids were called for.

(In the interim the city tried several times to pump in the local water. Each time the pressure won and pipes were blown out, causing additional expense and inconvenience. This was done despite the fact the city recognized that local pressure was too great for the pipes.)

Finally, bids were opened and it looked like the problem was going to be licked.

But anyone familiar with city planning, too often run out of a councilman's office instead of city hall, should have known better.

It seems the original plans had called for an unsightly valve above ground, in the center of a proposed block of Westlake homes. The builder was naturally indignant, as were residents.

A quick exchange of phone calls with the mayor and builder and the whole plan for the water reduction valve was cancelled. Months of planning were wasted, and the original bids were rejected.

This Monday night the council ordered the city engineer to draw up new specifications for a water valve underground. With any luck at all, the soonest work could get underway on this job would be one month.

Meanwhile, Westlake continues to get its water supply from San Francisco, and Daly City receives a bill of over $2,000 a month for said water.

Valuable time and much money have been wasted on a simple job. Why? Can it be too much red tape, or simply a city government lacking the know how of operating as a five man team?

We only hope the new council will not be this negligent. We hope the new council will operate as five men, operate from city hall, and operate efficiently.

The City's Road Is Rough

Now that the political smoke has cleared and the people have elected two new city councilmen, we can take an objective look at what is ahead for the council.

Frankly, it isn't an encouraging picture. These are the growing years, and Daly City is having more than its share of growing pains. The only tonic appears to be money, something which the taxpayers feel they are putting out enough of now.

Under new business, the city is faced with raising money for: A water reservoir and wells for Westlake, estimated cost close to $500,000; a sewage treatment plant (which includes Broadmoor and Colma), estimated cost well over the $500,000 mark; a fire house for Westlake, about $65,000; an expanded parks program...principally a long overdue park in Westlake, cost still to be determined; a large fire and police department, still an undetermined cost factor.

And, of course, there are many other less expensive items, many of which will be met out of the general fund, and will require no bond issues and resulting raise in the city's take from your check.

Under old business is one major item...completion of the Community Center building, which is estimated at about $150,000.

It is a simple thing to shrug the whole matter off by saying: "Well, that's the council's problem, that's why I elected them." On the other hand, it is wrong of the council to keep the people in a golden haze of misconceuption by not taking immediate direct action to get some of these things done. For there is going to be need of more and more city improvements, without compounding the ones that are already evident.

This is going to require team work and honesty on the part of the people and the council. It is going to require mutual respect and understanding.

We would suggest a step in the right direction might be the improvement of public relations between the council and its 15,000 bosses. We would suggest that the mayor think twice about cutting down a member of the council audience by pounding a gavel or firing back such words as "don't get smart with me, I'll get smart right back." We grant it is not always easy to be patient, but on the other hand this is the job of any man who has requested the support of the people.

No, the road ahead is not easy; but it can be a much smother one if the council learns the meaning of serving and respecting the people.

Jefferson High School Board Member Calls For Passage Of Tax Rate Boost

Dear Editor:

The Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District have given much thought to the problems of the school. Five years ago the people of the district approved an increase in the tax rate from 75c to $1.35.

This increase was for a five-year period. It is, therefore, necessary for us to ask the people to again approve this rate.

A "yes" vote on May 16 would continue the present tax rate limit of the Jefferson Union High School District.

We of the board pay taxes ourselves. We are, therefore, interested in running the school as economically as possible and yet maintain the kind of a high school we think the people of this community want.

Our school has been growing steadily and is on the threshold of a greatly increased rate of growth. Plans are under way for a new building on the present site and for a second high school to be built within a few years.

This additional building, a second high school, and an enrollment which will soon be double that of five years ago are the justifications for continuance of the present tax rate limit.

A "yes" vote on May 16 is my recommendation.

Ann Eason, Clerk
Board of Trustees

The Wild Scramble

Tax Question May Make Coming Presidential Election "Another Farce"

Dear Sir:

In the wild scramble which we tax-ridden Americans experience each March, this writer unearthed a copy of his tax return for 1935. He was then just getting on his feet after the terrible years following the 1929 panic. But he did succeed in earning that year $4,827. From this he was allowed a reduction of $263.34 for interest and real estate taxes, bringing his net income down to $4,563.64. His personal exemption for self and wife was $2,500, leaving a taxable income of $2,063.63. On this he was taxed 1 per cent, $20.64 for the year.

The personal exemption of $2,500 of 1935 had the purchasing power, as of 1952, of approximately $5,000. By 1951, the personal exemption for husband and wife had been cut in half, to $1,200. This $1,200 personal exemption has the purchasing power of what $600 had in 1935.

The tax on his 1935 income would have been this year above $600, as against $20.64 in 1935.

The Congressional Record for March 5 last (Page A1476) contains significant figures on the development of the Federal Income Tax burden. For example, a married man with no dependents, having a $12,000 net income each year, would have paid $80 in 1913, $160 in 1916, $195 in 1926, $650 in 1938, $2,648 in 1952.

The American people may very properly judge the candidates for the Presidency by their attitude on the policies responsible for such tax development. There should be no dodging or concealment tolerated; no acceptance of any candidate in a poke.

Should the Republican and the Democratic conventions each nominate a candidate unwilling to announce clearly his position on such issues, the American voters would have no choice, as was the case in 1940, 1944, and 1948. For a fourth time, an American Presidential election would be made a farce.

Sincerely,
Franklin Hichborn

Bloodmobile To Revist Daly City And Colma Area -- Be Sure To Donate

"We did it before, and we can do it again"—echoes the theme song of the Bloodmobile Committee of the seven Parent-Teacher Associations of the Jefferson elementary school district.

Blood procurement is still a big problem with the nation, and the Red Cross is once again sending to this area its famed Bloodmobile, to secure the contributions of the people of the area.

Mrs. Raymond Duste, general chairman, announces the participation of all the Parent-Teacher associations of the elementary school district—Woodrow Wilson, Crocker, Hillside, Westlake, James L. Snell, General Pershing and Colma.

The Bloodmobile will visit the Community Presbyterian church off Junipero Serra on 87th street on Tuesday, April 29, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Make your appointment now by calling PLaza 5-1865 or PLaza 5-2198. As was done previously, baby-sitting will be supplied at the church by supervised Girl Scouts, and refreshments will be served by the members of the various Parent-Teacher units.

The truce talks in Korea are a big step forward, but they do not stop bullets, and our men are still in dire need of our contributions of blood—so do plan to take this opportunity to make your contribution close to home. The hours of 5 to 7 are considered particularly advantageous to the men, who may wish to stop off on their way home.

Support of organizations of all kinds is sincerely urged—do plan to come down "en masse" to give this most precious of all gifts—life.

Air Groups Slate Confab Tomorrow

A dinner meeting of various Bay Area aviation groups and associations will be held at Villa Chartier tomorrow, April 18, for a conference with M. L. Doolin, director of the California Aeronautics Commission.

Groups sponsoring the dinner meeting are the San Mateo county sheriff's aero squadron, the civil air patrol, the Peninsula chapter of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots association, and the National Aeronautics association.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss aviation on the Peninsula, its problems, its future and what can be done to stop the trend of complete elimination of local airports.

Burglars Make Attempt To Enter Stores Here

The Mode-O-Day Dress Shop, 6428 Mission, and the Crocker Cleaners, 6212 Mission, both showed signs of attempted burglary over the weekend, it was reported by police.

However, neither building was entered by the intruders.

Bill Katz . . . FROM A CORNER

Now, take the pipe smoker. He will be found under the nearest smoke screen.

He may be a she. Women, too, smoke pipes, but usually at home. This type rarely marries. Most men prefer women to smoke cigars.

Pipe smokers are a definite case. They would like to have a case, but, this failing, are willing to settle for a smoke filled bistro.

Other pipe smokers prefer the out door life. Swinging behind a boxer dog, they sport a tweed jacket, a crew haircut, a manly jaw and a slightly dazed look. Who wouldn't be dazed playing nursemaid to a boxer?

Family Dogs

Some pipe smokers are family men. They are rarely wilful. Most of their time is spent smoking out behind the house. After marriage the romance of a pipe for the wife suddenly turned into a smell.

Men who carry portable nose warmers are philosophical. They have to be something, so it might as well be philosophical. What gladiator ever swung into battle with a pipe clenched between his teeth? Well, there might have been some, but they were always carried home.

At one time or another every man smokes a pipe. Cigarette companies are grateful that most don't make this into a habit. So is the federal government. Where would the government be without the billion dollars a year spent for cigarette tax? Or for that matter where would the cigarette manufacturers be without the other billion spent for smokes?

Far Away

But we are getting away from the subject. This is a habit of all pipe smokers. They can't stay on any subject very long.

No one can understand them, anyway. Words coming from behind teeth clenching a pipe stem sound more like static issuing out of a cement mixer.

At any rate, most men give up smoking pipes because they wish to conserve the taste buds on their tongues. Pipes soon deaden any taste. This is helpful when eating in restaurants. However, it is embarrasing when trying to give an honest answer to the question: "Is your wife a good cook?"

Pipe smokers rarely inhale. There are exceptions, but they never could smell anything anyway, so it doesn't matter.

Saving

Some are driven to pipe smoking because of a desire to save on cigarettes. They find this rarely works out. They end up spending more for matches to keep the pipe burning.

Others latch onto a pipe because it keeps the smoke out of their eyes when working. A simpler solution would be a cigarette holder, but this doesn't go unless you have the face or income to fit.

The lungs of a pipe smoker take on a peculiar brownish look. That's what the doctors say, and they should know . . . most of them smoke.

Good Pipes

A pipe smoker's personality is usually intense. He is always intent upon something, usually studying how to blow smoke rings.

There are various types of pipes. Some are good, some are bad. Opium smokers question this conclusion. They say all pipes are good.

But a really good pipe is like a good woman . . . battered and bruised, good to keep hopes high and spirit down, and faithful in all kinds of weather.

Stan Bibbero . . . BIBBERO'S BABBLE

Sometimes I wonder just what in blazes is the matter with people. There is just no explanation of their actions at times. Or, if there is an explanation, it borders on the fantastic, and leads to the conclusion there are more candidates for the mental institutions than we realize.

Take the traditional Easter Parade on Fifth Avenue in New York, just for an example. It has always seemed to me that this was a fine old custom. The fashionable men and women of the big city strolled the avenue on their way to and from church, and the less fortunate citizens always gathered to watch the fun.

Altogether, what with the lovely ladies strolling along, the celebrities, the brightness of the joyful occasion, and the reverence necessary for true celebration of the Resurrection, it was truly a happy day in New York City.

Things are different today. The newspapers Monday were full of articles dealing with the famous Fifth Avenue parade, as usual. But all that reading those stories did for me was to leave a slightly bad taste in my mouth.

The Easter Parade was taken over by the "hucksters" and crackpots. Women marched up and down the avenue with parrots on their heads, eagles on their shoulders, and signs advertising everything from movies to amusement centers. Men and women outdid each other in trying to look like perfect fools—and succeeded in every respect.

There was the report of a tall, distinguished, grey-haired man who walked down the street sporting red lapels and a birdcage on his head.

At the very best this sort of conduct is the height of bad taste. More likely, however, is that it represents a type of diseased mind that is becoming more and more prevalant throughout this country.

To date, however, these exhibitionists have fairly well confined themselves to cities such as New York and Los Angeles. We in the Bay Area may consider ourselves fortunate in that respect.

I was in downtown San Francisco Easter morning, and I can report joyfully that despite the rain, the people were well dressed, cheerful and sane. At least, I did not come across a single outlandish costume or head decoration. Praise be.

The idea of mass insanity is not pleasant to contemplate, but even a most cursory glance through the metropolitan newspapers almost any day of the year will convince the most optimistic that something is wrong somewhere. We were always noted for being a race of rugged individualists, but never for being a nation of crackpots.

Maybe the pressure of modern living is becoming a little too heavy. Whatever it is, the effects are not pleasant.

Callan Calls For East-West County Highways

Calling for an improved system of county highways for rapid transportation, Thomas Callan, candidate for the board of supervisors, spoke before the Brisbane Better Government League last Thursday evening.

Callan's speech, a reeiteration of his program for county improvements, reflected the necessity of electing a man of action to the county board of supervisors.

"Unquestionably the great bottleneck to development of the area around Brisbane and the whole county is the lack of adequate highways running east and west," Callan said.

"Such a highway in this area would connect Brisbane residents with the Daly City-Colma area, and is highly desirable."

Touching upon the recent supervisor's approval of a prison farm for county prisoners, Callan observed this had his full support. In fact, formation and development of such a farm is an important part of Callan's platform.

Callan's comments on other needed county improvements echoed a general understanding of county affairs which he has gained through his activities as a leader in county business and civic circles.

Knowland Working For Veteran Vote

"Senator Knowland has demonstrated his capacity for initiating and supporting measures which are for the best ideals of our American form of government," Thomas J. Riordan, Northern California Chairman of "Veterans for Knowland" declared today in announcing the formation of the veterans non-partisan group supporting Knowland for re-election.

Riordan, a former California Department Commander of the American Legion and former Director of the California Department of Veterans' Affairs, stated that his committee would work in close cooperation with local county Veterans Committees who are seeking the re-election of Senator Knowland at the June 3 primaries.

"We believe that all veterans are rightfully and vitally concerned with the re-election of U. S. Senator William F. Knowland who is a veteran of World War II," Riordan said.

Tax Bill

Every San Mateo County Family Owes Government An Average Of $5,590

Every family in San Mateo county owes, on the average, $5,590 as their share of the national debt, California Taxpayers' association said today. For the county as a whole, the share of the national debt is $515,391,000.

Total debt of the federal government reached $257,360,934,000 on April 7, the association pointed out. California's share is almost $22 billion—about 50 per cent more than the $14.7 billion total value of taxable property in the state for 1951-52.

The $85.4 billion federal budget presented to congress contemplates adding $14.4 billion to the present national debt, because revenue expected to be received from present taxes is estimated to reach "only" $71 billion.

"California's share of an additional $14.4 billion of national debt would be about $1.2 billion, added to the almost $22 billion now owed," the Taxpayers' association said, pointing out that the $1.2 billion is about the same as the total budget for the state of California adopted by the legislature in Sacramento early this month.

"Congress should hold federal expenditures well within the amount which federal taxes will bring in," the Taxpayers' association said.

"One way to do this would be pass the Coudert resolution, H. J. Res. 371, which places a top limit on federal spending for 1952-53 of $71 billion.

"With such a ceiling—and with a will to eliminate unnecessary and wasteful expenditures—the federal budget can be balanced.

"Then the people can start the long, hard drive to bring federal spending down to a point where the onerous burden of federal taxes on the people can be reduced," the association declared.

Fontana Speaks On Youth Welfare At Recent Forum Meet

Elio A. Fontana, candidate for the office of trustee of the Jefferson Union high school district, was guest speaker at the San Francisco Speakers' Forum recently.

Fontana's topic for discussion was youth welfare—the problems confronting the public today in connection with youth of America, and what measures could be taken to bring about a better understanding and ultimate solution to this vital present day problem.

He stressed better coordination between the police department agencies responsible for youth guidance, so that a sincere effort is made to determine the basic cause in the family background of youthful offenders. The importance of properly supervised recreational facilities, to direct youthful energy into the proper channels, was stressed.

Fontana concluded by urging that youth welfare agencies work closely with the parents in order to achieve this necessary understanding, so that in the case of juvenile offenders they will receive proper help and guidance in order to give them a real second chance to make good rather than indiscriminate punishment which does not sek out the cause for the offense.

Sharp Park Man Gets 18 Months For Drug Charge

Donald Meyer, 36, Sharp Park, one of a number of members of an international narcotics ring headed by Waxey Gordon, was sentenced to 18 months in prison by Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman late Friday. Meyer is already serving a five-year term at McNeil Island.

Meyer was given the slight sentence due to the fact he is presently serving a term. The 18 months will be added to his present term.

THREE FIREMEN ARE INJURED IN BLAZE

Three Lomita Park volunteer firemen were injured, one seriously, battling a blaze at a 46- year-old, two-story rooming house which for a time late Friday night threatened two adjoining residences.

The occupants of the home, a man and his wife and six children, had just left on a vacation trip to Los Angeles. Most seriously injured fireman was Loyal Sutton, 31, who suffered a badly wrenched back. The blaze was brought under control after two hours of battle. Damage was estimated at $4,500.

Soldier Is Injured In Motorbike Crash

Mathew J. Zgraggen, 22-year-old Fort Ord army sergeant, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg Saturday evening when his motorcycle went out of control and crashed into a car parked in a driveway at 1240 Hillside drive in Colma.

Zgraggen was pinned under the left front wheel of the automobile which was turned half way around in the driveway by the impact. He was freed by the owner of the car, H. C. Prater, 1240 Hillside drive, who watched the crash from the window of his home.

The soldier was taken to Junipero Serra hospital and transferred to Letterman hospital in San Francisco.

The Federal government has stockpiled enough paper clips to fill its needs for the next 80 years.

Orchid Exhibit Slated At Oakland

Feature Of Annual Spring Garden Show

Thousands of priceless orchids, from the "corsage Cattleya" to the rarest of black jungle blooms will be a starring attraction of "Today's Gardens," the 1952 California Spring Garden Show, planned April 25-May 2 at Oakland's Exposition Building.

These aristocrats of the floral kingdom will lend authenticity to scores of tropical displays and garden landscapes of the Garden Show, which this year will have a glamourous new Brazilian-Modern theme.

Companion floral exhibits will include prize-winning anthuriums and a profusion of beautiful broad-leafed evergreen plants, exotic ferns and other tropical verdure planted in settings simulating their native habitats in foreign lands.

Orchid Growers

Many of the nation's leading orchid growers, both amateur and professional, are entering choice blooms in the 1952 Garden Show. Among types to be exhibited are the Cymbidium, Vanda, Cattleya, Dendrobium, Oncidium and Odontoglossum, according to Show Designer Ned S. Rucker. The complete array will constitute the largest orchid display ever presented in the United States, he stated.

Many will be used to enliven tropical landscaping for contemporary-style garden pavilions, terraces, and outdoor living areas designed in the contemporary Rio de Janeiro manner. Others will glamorize the banks of the realistic Andean cascade, which is to be a Garden Show highlight.

Adding further tropical realism to "Today's Gardens," several exhibits will be animated with live jungle animals, birds, and tropical fish. Stars of the Garden Show's "animal kingdom" will include "Cheetah Girl," a six-month old leopard from the jungles of India, who will make appearances opening day afternoon, April 25; and closing afternoon May 2 with her pretty blonde owner, Meta Irene Brogden, a sophomore student at Holy Names College in Oakland.

Traffic Accident Price Runs High

Twenty-five thousand brand new $12,000 homes . . . a market basket piled high with $32 worth of food for every man, woman and child in the state . . . 1,500,000 new television sets.

Californians could have had any one of those things last year with the $324,710,000 (million) they spent in paying the price for traffic accidents, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The multi-million dollar accident bill is based on National Safety Council figures fixing the average cost of a single traffic death at $95,000. California's 1951 traffic death toll was 3,418.

Also included in the $95,000 "per death" figure is the cost of 35 injuries and 225 property damage accidents, based on the statewide ration of fatalities to total accidents.

Costs of the items making up the $95,000 are $21,800 for the death, $950 for each of the injuries and $180 for each of the property damage accidents.

Accident costs include wage loss, medical and hospital expenses, repair or replacement of damaged property and overhead cost of insurance, but not money paid on insurance claims.

If the 42,000,000 Americans who pay Federal income taxes were forced to pay $125 each immediately, the total would not pay the annual interest on the public debt.

Auto Accidents Injure Five Here

An epidemic of auto accidents in the Daly City area during the past week sent five persons to the hospital, one with serious injuries.

On Easter Sunday, April 13, four persons were injured when their car went out of control and struck a tree near the intersection of Junipero Serra and Hickey boulevards, in Broadmoor.

Hospitalized was Maj. Joseph Canavan, 73, retired army officer, who resides in San Francisco. Maj. Canavan was treated at Community hospital for a lacerated scalp and shock. His condition was reported as "fair."

Also treated were Thomas J. Valantin, driver of the car, Mrs. May Lasselle, and Valerie Valantin, all of San Francisco. The three suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Broadmoor police officer Ray Savage arrested Mrs. Eloise Taylor, San Francisco, on charges of driving on the wrong side of the Hickey connection to Bayshore boulevard with one light out.

According to police, the car driven by Valantin slid out of control on the soft shoulder while attempting to avoid Mrs. Taylor's auto.

She was picked up a few miles from the site of the accident after highway patrol officers sent out a radio call. According to Broadmoor Police Chief Paul Schmidt, Mrs. Taylor stated to Officer Savage that she was frightened and left the scene of the accident.

As a consequence of still another accident, Fred Cobbat, P. O. Box 194, Half Moon Bay, was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for lacerations of the face and hand. Cobbat's auto collided at 91st and Edgeworth with a car driven by Wesley F. Foster, 840 Washington street, Broadmoor.

Both cars were damaged but no citations were issued ate the time

Rain Fails To Halt Easter Celebrants In Daly City Area

Rain failed to dampen the determination of thousands of Daly Cityites to attend Easter services.

Local churches reported record turnouts, and throngs packed special Easter sunrise services in San Francisco and the Peninsula.

The El Rancho Drive-In theater at Colma reported capacity attendance at the sunrise services held there. Every car stall at the theater was filled, and many who could not drive in, walked, and sat in other cars.

Many local churches—a number of which offered double services—reported standees in attendance.

Other local residents attended the services at Emerald Lake cross, west of Redwood city. And, of course, the 5:30 a.m. services atop San Francsico's Mt. Davidson drew many to sunrise worship.

Highway patrol officers reported heavy traffic during the morning hours, which fell off to below average in the late afternoon, as early church-goers returned to their homes.

Taking all in all, the major Christian festival of the year more than lived up to its centuries-old tradition on the local scene.

Sunday, Mid-Week Services Slated For Ocean View

Ocean View Christian church services this Sunday, April 20, will be held at 10:45 a.m. At that time, the Rev. W. Lawrence Wells will speak on "Continuing Steadfastly."

Sunday school at the church, 107 Sagamore street, will begin at 9:30 a.m. and a meeting of Chi Rho, youth group, will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Mid-week meetings will include choir practice, to be held Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock, and Bible study, slated for Thursday night at the same time.

Mrs. Warren Named Eagles Auxiliary President

Mrs. Dolores Warren today is the new president of the Ladies Auxiliary No. 1848, FOE.

She and other officers were elected at a meeting of the group last Tuesday. Installation of the new officers wil lbe held June 11 at 8:30 p. m. at the Masonic hall, 17 Hillcrest drive.

Other officers include: Jean Blankenhorn, vice-president; Brita Morris, chaplain; Midge Fehl, conductress; Lynne Boskey, treasurer; Patricia Pawson, inside guard; Dorothea Pawson, outside guard; Edna Mona, trustee.

Meanwhile, at the same meeting three new members were welcomed to the Auxiliary. They include Mesdames Francise Oyhancabal, Frances Sundlof and Marguerite Dunkel. President Alberta Diebel presented the new members with pins.

During the course of the evening Mrs. Diebel was presented a gift by Mona Nenstiel on behalf of the Auxiliary members. The gift was for Mrs. Diebel's birthday.

After the shock of opening a small box and seeing a dozen balls spring out in all directions, the members presented Mrs. Diebel with a lovely suitcase and nylon lingerie. Needless to say, she was very surprised and very happy.

After the close of the meeting, members adjourned to enjoy refreshments. Tables were set in the Easter theme, in pastel colors with Easter baskets for everyone.

Cop Finds What's Left Of Stolen Car On Hill

Police officer Dave Johnstone, while on patrol last Friday, found a 1949 sedan in the hills east of Daly City—but there wasn't much left of the car.

It had been stripped—but good—and was minus all four wheels, tires, radio, battery, license plates, spotlight, and all other accessories including the steering wheel.

It was discovered the car belonged to Tillford M. Gaines, of San Francisco, and had been reported stolen by San Francisco police January 30, 1952.

Scripture reference — Luke 24: 13-14.

In the physical world, where there is action there of necessity must be re-action. If we, as Christians, were permitted to sojourn for a few fleeting hours on the Mount of Transfiguration, as it were, on Easter Sunday, we by this time have come down into the plans of everyday grind and turmoil.

Christ's disciples were aware of this reaction, two of whom, one whose name was Cleopas, left Jerusalem, where so many dramatic scenes had taken place recently.

Why these disciples left for the village called Emmaus is hard to say. They may have lived there, or the pressure of the reaction may have been too great for them. At any rate, these disciples, though they spoke out of turn in conversing with the Lord Jesus, they were honest, and out of the fullness of their hearts, their mouth overflowed.

Whosoever these disciples may have been, and whatever their purpose may have been to journey to Emmaus, it is to their everlasting credit that they talked together of the things that happened to their Lord in those latter days in Jerusalem.

For the encouragement of others and for the benefit of our own souls we talk about what we saw in church attendance, and heard in sermon and song last Easter Sunday.

—Contributed by the Rev. William Harberts, pastor, Grace Presbyterian church, 515 Winchester street.

Lutherans Set Services

Sunday school classes at the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, and adult Bible classes to be held at the same time, will begin this Sunday morning, April 20, at 9:45 o'clock.

Lutheran Church of Our Savior is located at the corner of Garfield and Junipero Serra boulevard.

Donald Rossi Wins Variety Contest

The doors of the Daly City Theater were thrown wide during the Easter vacation and local kids flocked in for a two and a half hour free stage and screen show.

Local merchants sponsored the show, which was held April 10, and donated prizes to be given to winners of a variety show for the small-fry.

The show, produced and directed by Roland Terry, assistant manager of the theater, opened with a presentation of the colors by Daly City Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts.

Then came the show and variety contest, which was won by Donald Rossi, 12-year-old singer, who received a wrist-watch as first prize.

Other acts were offered by Cecila Villa, Florence and Tommy Wallis, Jackie Hansen, Charles and Donnie Aiello, and David Peterson.

The contest was conducted by Bob Harper, formerly of the Columbia Park Boys club, and piano accompaniment was by Stan Scott. Music for the program was presented by George Urbani and his Daly City Blue King band.

Merchants sponsoring the show include Dottie's Cleaners, Vance X. Craft, Vince and Fred's Liquors, Tromborg the Plumber, Brevers Donut Shop, Crown Drug Co., Balboa Music and Gifts, and the State Market.

Prizes were offered by Daly City Poultry Co., Daly City Pet Shop, Daly City Shoe Repair, Tanforan Flower Shop, Dotties Cleaners, Daly City Hardware, Cook's Radio Service, and Lee's Pharmacy.

Terry expresses his thanks to the Stagehand's Union for their assistance.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW UNTIL members of Daly City Girl Scout troops will be sitting around in the sunshine in outdoor classes like the one pictured above, hiking, swimming, working toward merit badges. Summer camp will start in June, and all girls planning to go have been asked to register during the days set aside for this procedure. See story at right.

Girl Scouts Ready For Camping Spree

Along about this time each year businessmen start thinking about that long-awaited summer vacation. With young girls who belong to the Girl Scouts it's a little different. They start looking forward to the fun of a summer camp.

And, for members of the Daly City-Colma District, Girl Scouts, the summer camping period is not far off. In fact, dates for registering have been set up from April 21-24.

Brownie, intermediate and senior Scouts should register with their own troop leaders, according to authorities. Camp fees are nominal—$1.50 for the eight days for Brownies, and $2.50 for intermediates and senior Girl Scouts.

Chief registrar for the district, Mrs. Rheo Daniels of 244 Citrus street, announced the dates of the summer camp as June 16 through 19, and June 23 through 26. The time was purposely picked in the hope the weather will be sunny and balmy.

Camp Mattrup is a lovely wood-land site located in the Colma hills. This year there will be more emphasis on outdoor cooking, hiking and nature study. Again Scouts from 10 years up will be able to enjoy archery and horseback riding—favorite sports with all. Transportation to and from the camp will be arranged.

With such an important program scheduled, officials say adult volunteers are needed. One adult is required for each eight girls registered for camp life.

Complete training will be given adults by the Girl Scout Council of Northern San Mateo county. Mrs. McCann, chairman of the sites program, said her volunteers need no official training. She may be contacted by phoning PLaza 5-0126.

This year Girl Scout Campers-hips will be awarded on a scholarship basis. The Scout makes her own application, with the recommendation of her troop leader. She must show leadership qualities and true Scouting abilities.

Since full camperships are given only under very unusual circumstances, any Scout hoping for a campership is expected to show her enthusiasm by saving toward the camp fee. At the end of the camp term she will be expected to share her experiences with her troopmates.

Applications are now being considered for troop and day camp, as well as for established camp.

Mrs. Nagy was a room mother at Westlake school.

New officers for the Hillside group who will be installed include, in addition to Mrs. Nagy, Mrs. Frank Klassen, vice-president; Miss M. Tobias, honorary vice-president; Mrs. John Hiller, recording secretary; Mrs. T. Mullen, treasurer; Mrs. J. Hopper, financial secretary; Mrs. E. Nenstiell, auditor; and Mrs. H. L. Weibel, historian.

All friends and members of the PTA unit have been cordially invited to attend the ceremonies. Refreshments will be served by the hospitality committee.

THESE YOUNGSTERS, SHOWN BUSILY coloring Easter eggs, were in a large part responsible for the success of last Thursday's annual Easter egg hunt. ## VILLAGE NOTES

BROADMOOR, GARDEN VILLAGE, COLMA
by
Mrs. Mark Swoverland
PLaza 5-4158

There were many new Spring hats worn last Sunday even though the weather was far from appropriate. However, the Easter Bunny was much in evidence, and the children were in sunny spirits.

87th

Ed and Juanita Craig spent last weekend abalone fishing at Salt Point. Their weekend came to a wet halt however when their truck had to be pulled out of the camp grounds by a tractor.

Mark Swoverland celebrated his birthday on Easter Sunday at a family gathering at the home of Mrs. Swoverland's mother in San Francisco.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Gladys Fies returned home this week from Children's Hospital and is getting along just fine.

Foothill

Vicky Guz celebrated her seventh birthday on Saturday at a party for several of her friends. Those present included Sharon & Jackie Cook, Robin Easterbrook, Gail Greer, Lynn & Ginny Jones, John & Claudia Guz, Andrea Pansini of Greenbrae, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Girard & Kathleen of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Guymon and Karen and Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Holman and Miles spent Saturday in Santa Cruz. They stopped for dinner at the Brookdale Lodge to celebrate Mrs. Guymon's birthday.

We are sorry to say farewell to the John McCarty family but wish them all happiness in their new home in San Francisco.

Larchmont

Mr. and Mrs. John Glasse and Marie spent several days last week in Carmel. They claim they might as well have stayed at home for there was no change in the weather.

Maddux

Thursday evening Betty Hart was hostess at their neighborhood Canasta Party. Those trying their luck were Pearl Harris, Amparo Arejula, Mary Contreras, Betty Arthur, Irene Park, and Shiela Mahoney.

National YWCA Week Set April 20

The fifth National YWCA Week will be ushered in Sunday, April 20, and continue through Saturday, April 26, according to the announcement yesterday of Miss Mary S. Buchtel, executive director of the local Association.

It will be celebrated by 431 local Associaitons and by 657 college and university Associations throughout the United States in observance of the far-flung work with women and girls which this globe-girlding organization carries out. The theme of the week is ON YOUR OWN, BUT NOT ALONE—JOIN YOUR YWCA.

"Since National YWCA Week is our big annual recruiting time," Miss Buchtel said, "we invite anyone, man or woman, in San Francisco who wants to know more about our work to drop into the YW at 620 Sutter street, or 965 Clay street, or the YM-YWCA Center at 1530 Buchanan street. We will hold open house all week and will be delighted to take the interested public on a tour of the building and let them see our classes and clubs and some of the handiwork of these groups.

"Since we are primarily a youth-serving organization, the greater number of our members are young girls and young married women, the latter formed into YW-Wives clubs, but we also enroll young men in our coed groups and actually encourage men and women of all ages to turn to their local YWCA for fun new, friends, interesting pastimes and hobbies, whether it be ceramics, the study of a language, or square dancing. When enough persons indicate an interest in any subject, we are prepared to give leadership and set up such a club or class group."

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

The Book House for Children points out that bathing was stylish among the Arabs at a time when perfume was still a substitute for soap and water in the courts of Europe. In Cordova, the capital of Arabian culture during the 10th Centry, "three-hundred public baths invited men to cleanliness," and the Arabs not only washed their bodies often, they also scrubbed their heads.

FOR THE LADIES

According to research experts for the Book House For Children, the Moors used henna finger-nail dye at the height of their culture (about 950 A.D.) This ancient version of modern red nail polish was sold "along with camel's liver and flat acorn cakes by merchants squatting on straw mats in the market place."

Girl Scouts Color Eggs

Daly City Girl Scouts, in accordance with custom, spent the greater part of last Wednesday afternoon coloring thousands of Easter eggs.

As a matter of fact, these girls colored more than 4,000 eggs, so that children of the community could participate in the annual Easter egg hunt, sponsored here each year by the recreation department.

Girls from Troops 13, 31 and 32 worked long and hard at coloring the eggs, a public service they have performed for the past three years. Thursday girls from Troops 9, 23, 12, 26 and 29 took the eggs and hid them at two different sites, Westlake and Gambetta, being careful to hide them well enough to give the kids some fun, but not so well the toddlers couldn't find them.

Then all the girls stood by on the big day to help supervise the event, make sure the youngsters kept in line, helped lost kiddies rejoin anxious parents, and in general kept order.

For rendering this public service, members of the Girl Scout troops receive points toward various merit badges and other advancements.

Activities of the girls this year was under the supervision of Mrs. Everett Heagney, general chairman. Mrs. Flick, dietician at the high school, was present for the egg coloring.

Red Cross Offers Mother & Baby Care Course

Registration Underway For May 27 Class

The local Red Cross Nursing Services today announced the second in a series of classes at the Chapter house in Burlingame in "Mother and Baby Care" open to both prospective fathers and mothers.

It will start April 22, and is already full, but registrations are being taken now for a third class scheduled for May 27, also at the Chapter house.

Mrs. C. A. Andrews, registered nurse, will give instructions to husbands and wives Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. for three successive weeks.

"I suggest immediate registration at Red Cross headquarters for the May class," Mrs. Andrews said. "Fathers and Mothers expecting a baby in the summer or early fall should avail themselves of this opportunity now. There is no charge. Of course, we will also welcome wives whose husbands are away."

Prospective dads have proved to be as enthusiastic as their wives when it comes to learning how to bath, change and feed junior, Mrs. Andrews reports. A lecture by the instructor is followed by a practice period, for the class, using real equipment and life size dolls.

All the approved techniques are put into actual use from the "football carry" to testing real water for proper bath temperature. Mrs. Andrews pointed out that experience has proved parents enjoy their babies much more when both have learned how to care for them easily and properly, and so have that most important feeling of confidence.

PAST PERFECT

The picture during the so-called Dark Ages apparently wasn't so dark. The Book House For Children tells how "apprenticed workers of the time were protected by contract from the indignities of having to baby-sit or wash dishes for their masters' wives."

Jeff To Play San Jose Fri.

The uneven Jefferson Indians, who bowed to Palo Alto in their first Peninsula Athletic League game and snowballed Willow Glen 8-1 in their last official tilt, travel to the San Jose diamond this Friday for a game whose outcome is very much in doubt.

Notoriously weak at the plate and still inclined to errors—despite 11 practice games thus far—the Indians have a big psychological advantage in the form of the 1950 and '51 PAL championships, which reside comfortably with them.

Whether or not they add the 1952 top spot to their record will probably depend on a trio of pitchers, Don Delbon, Joe Lewkowitz and Chuck Carroll. All three are fresh from last season's frosh squad.

Coaching chores have fallen upon Clarence Lair, who took over recently when former-coach Glenn South was hospitalized with acute appendicitis.

Lair's lineup for tomorrow's game starts off with third baseman Don Wilson, currently hitting .171; shortstop Ray Rosa, .166; center fielder Mario Leveroni, .387; catcher Bryan McMahon, .291; first baseman Larry Blanchard, .176; pitcher Joe Lewkowitz, with a surprisingly heavy .363; right fielder Bob Schlopfer, .428; and left fielder Izzy Galente, .111.

The averages given include practice games. Those for PAL play alone are a somewhat sadder story.

At any rate, tomorrow's games will throw the Jeffs headlong into PAL play. From now on thru the end of the season, two games a week is the rule—one each Tuesday and Friday.

If the locals can get through the league playoffs, May 19-24, their third straight championship may well become a reality.

Born Yesterday Opens April 18 At Little Theatre

"Born Yesterday" the comedy smash hit by Garson Kanin that chalked up a four-year run in New York and has delighted audiences all over the world, will be presented at the Peninsula Little Theatre for six performances beginning April 18.

This laugh romp, which deals with the chicanery of a profiteer in post-war Washington and the dumb ex-chorine he has brought along, is being directed by Robert Brauns.

What Brooks Atkinson in the New York Times called "the incandescent hilarity" of the comedy derives from the fact that the roughneck who has come to the capital to put over a big swindle, suddenly sees that the "doll" in his entourage has a dubious amount of social graces and needs a little smartening up to be acceptable in the circle of high-fee'd, corrupted lawyers and legislators in which he has introduced her.

This self-made tycoon, who during the war had run a junkyard up into a big-time steel business, engages a lofty-minded magazine writer to educate his blonde. The complications arise from the fact that the writer does his job too well. After only a few weeks she may still think a peninsula is that new kind of medicine, but she's picked up the right definitions of enough other words to make the overbearing junkman howl for the means to make her dumb again. The biggest thing she learns is to resent the brutal domination of the junkman over his lawyer, his brother, herself, and everybody else he thinks he can buy.

Arline Severson will be seen here as the blonde who makes trouble for the tycoon when she starts to think for herself, and Bob Day will portray the junk czar who makes the mistake of putting some important properties in the girl's name, never dreaming that she might some day walk out on him. William Stretch will be seen as the correspondent who teaches the ex-chorine a thing or two about public affairs.

Central Club Sets Victory Banquet

A victory banquet will be held this Friday night, when the Central Club kegglers gather at Club Casino to celebrate their recently won championship of the Merchants Bowling league.

Highlight of the evening will come when Tex Grisel, team sponsor, is presented with a 29-inch-tall trophy. "The best that money can buy," says team member Dell Fehl.

Grisel, in return, will present each of the six team members with a miniature replica of the large trophy.

Team members are Tony Santos, Leroy Princ, Nick Gabriellini, John Melani, Bill Watson and Fehl.

A turnout of approximately 40 bowlers and their wives are expected at the dinner, slated to begin at 8:30 p.m.

The Central Club team wound up their league play with a winning win-less record of 47-39.

Outcome of the tourney was temporarily in doubt when the Central Clubbers dropped three games to the Daly City Lions during the final night of play, then came back to win the playoff from Thur Meat Co.

A House Armed Services Committee report said recently that we may be spending ourselves into a "bloodless victory" for Russia because continued defense spending at the present rate could bankrupt the nation.

Rain Halts Annual Pebble Beach Men's Tennis Singles

Last weekend's rain halted the Pebble Beach Annual Men's singles before semi-finals play was completed, but Daly City tennis star-lawyer Tom Brown will be on hand when the tourney resumes, April 26.

Brown, fresh from his recent victory in the Bay Counties tournament, had time for one match Saturday before the rains came.

In it he met Harry Buttimer and downed him 6-2, 6-2.

On Saturday, April 26, Brown will meet Gil Shey for the semi-finals. Shey, former Los Angeles racqueteer, is now of Camp Stoneman and the U. S. Army.

Winner of the Brown-Shey tilt will meet Jerry DeWitt for the championship. DeWitt downed Harry Likas 6-4, 6-2, in their semi-finals match.

In the meantime, Brown will occupy himself by joining with Likas to enter the Burlingame Invitational Men's Doubles, to be held this weekend at the Burlingame Country club.

Brown and Likas has high hopes, but top seeded pair are Ellis Slack of Palo Alto and San Franciscan Ralph Gish, who walked off with top spot in the men's doubles at the Bay Counties tourney.

Council Commends Golfer Silvestri

The rewards of persistence keep coming in to Bob Silvestri, who recently brought home the San Francisco City Golf Championship after making the tourney finals no less than four times previous.

Monday night's meeting of the Daly City council found Councilman James Kennedy sponsoring an official resolution, commending Silvestri for his "remarkable persistence and good sportsmanship."

Silvestri, who resides at 14 Lake Forest drive and operates a Colma establishment for the slaking of thirsts, came up from behind to down Sacramento's Vern Callison 2 and 1 in the 1952 tournament, which ended Sunday, March 30.

Adding that Silvestri is "recognized as one of the finest golf competitors in the city," Kennedy asked that the golfer be "publicly commended for his efforts.

Runaway Car Hits House After Trip Down Street

The car, owned by Francis J. Rebarber, 40, of 749 Hanover street, had been parked when Rebarber went into a neighborhood grocery. Police said the brakes were not set and the wheels jumped a curb. Rebarber said he didn't realize anything was wrong until he heard the crash.

Pat Downey, owner of the house, said he was in the rear when the crash came. "The doorbell was ringing," he said.

RIBERA WILL TAKE TRACK SQUAD TO GIANT MULTI-SCHOOL MEET AT CAL AGGIES OVAL

The Jefferson track squad treks to Davis this Saturday, where at least 50 central California high schools will gather for the giant, annual Cal Aggies meet.

Local track mentor Ernie Ribera and his boys will leave by bus early Saturday morning for up Sacramento way. The locals highest hopes are that sophomore Al Schenone—a top-ranking distance runner—will grab off a win in the class "B" mile event.

Schenone came through with double wins in the Jeff-South City meet, where the tracksters walked off with the Windbreaker AC Perpetual Dual Meet trophy, and also picked up two first in a recent practice meet with Capuchino.

In the class "B" 660 race at Capuchino he knocked four-tenths off San Mateo's Artenburn's 1:28.9, formerly the best 660 time of the season.

Another good bet for the Cal Aggies meet is Coach Ribera's class "B" 880 yard relay squad of Wayne Webb, Del Hamann, Jerry Yarborough and Schenone. With a change of one man in the personal involved, this team set a school record at the South City meet.

Each of the relay boys will also double in brass. Webb is entered in the 220, Hamann in the 440, Yarborough in the 440, and Schenone, as was previously mentioned.

Other entires are Roger Miller, low hurdles; Bob Dorsey, 160; and Dave Coates in the half-mile event, and also a possible starter in the pole-vault.

Of the varsity squad entered, Lenie Monsen and Mac Douglas will run the 440, Paul Bollinger and Parish the half-mile, Bob Davis the shot-put and discus throw, and Ron Peden the high and low hurdles.

Bollinger, Ribera hopes, will follow in the footsteps of his brother, John, who took the half-mile event at Davis last year.

A three-way meet with South City and Capuchino was held Thursday evening too late for coverage by THE RECORD.

Break A Window? Philanthropist Will Fix It For Free

That perrenial bane of sandlot baseball—the broken window and its consequence, the confiscated ball, are with us no more.

A 52-year-old Cleveland, Ohio manufacturer named Frank Russell has pumped $18,00 into replacing windows broken as a result of some embryo DiMaggio slugging one over the fence.

A man who can remember his own youthful troubles along the broken window line, Russell is unusual in that he's in a position to really do something about it. He manufacturers windows.

Russell started his system about six months ago by announcing that he and his distributors would repair any and all windows broken by ball-playing youngsters.

From that moment on he was deluged with letters—and bills.

Rock-throwers, BB-shooters and others of such ilk find no solace with Russell. He confines his philanthropy to baseball and football accidents.

Russell's system is the essence of simplicity. He has printed and distributed large quantities of cards with his local dealer's name attached. The cards read:

"Please return ball to its youthful owner. Free replacement of window glass accidentally broken by ballplayer. Place this card in an envelope with your name and address and date of accident and mail to . . ."

In this manner, the kids get their ball returned, the owner of the busted window gets a free replacement, and Mr. Frank Russell gets a small and well-deserved niche in history.

SEGALAS NOW ABOARD DESTROYER TENDER

The USS Hamul, a Navy destroyer tender, can be compared to a floating garage.

Supporting UN forces in the Far East, she's the new duty sation for Gerald H. Segalas, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Segalas of 240 Whittier street.

The Hamul has repaired and overhauled every conceivable type of equapment from 5-inch guns to the clothes washing machines carried aboard destroyers. She carries on board a foundry, electronics shop, machine shop, carpenter shop, optical and fire control shop, and a pattern shop.

Such ships as the Hamul have kept wast-striking destroyers at the peak of their battle efficiency. She has been in the Korean area since last November.

The Hamul originally served in the merchant fleet, then acted as a Navy cargo ship.

This Information Should Make Everyone Cheerful

Every family in Daly City owes, on the average, $5,590 as their share of the national debt, according to the California Taxpayers' association. For the county as a whole, the share of the national debt is $515,391,000.

Total debt of the federal government reached $257,360,934,000 on April 7, the association pointed out. California's share is almost $22,000,000,000—about 50 per cent more than the $14.7 billion total value of taxable property in the state for 1951-1952.

Bodien And Ford Attend Water Works Meeting

Hillside Blvd. To Get Stop Signs

Edgewood Terrace Meet Slated Monday

Stop signs are to be installed this week on Hillside boulevard.

City Administrator Dan Andersen said the signs will go up at Gambetta and Hillside and Market and Hillside.

Such a move was urged almost two months ago by the Hillside Improvement Association. The association felt the signs were necessary, as motorists now have a clear "run" from Mission and Hillside to Market and Hillside; and, while well patrolled, the police can not stop every motorist who decides to break the speed limit.

Discussion of the signs and other improvements will be made at the regular meeting of the Association Monday, April 21 at 7:45 p. m. in Room 5 of the Jefferson high school.

All residents of Daly City, particularly those residing in the Edgewood-Hillside area, are invited to attend.

New Officers Are Elected At Local Lions Club Meet

The new officers will be installed late in June, and will take office for the coming year July 1.

At Wednesday's meeting a Technicolor movie on France was shown by Ray Cayle, a representative of the motion picture union in San Francisco.

Next week a joint meeting with the Downtown Lions Club is planned at the Colonial. The meeting also will be a Ladies Day.

Porch Light Drive Scheduled Tonight

Residents of Daly City are again reminded of the Porch Light Drive scheduled tonight, April 17, between 7 and 9 p. m. for the Cancer Crusade.

The drive will be concentrated in Daly City and Colma. Anyone wishing to donate to the fund is asked to leave his porch light burning in the designated hours, and volunteer workers will arrive to take the donations.

In connection with the drive, Mrs. Eve Hobbs, chairman for collection at the Bank of America booth, wishes to thank her committee for work done the past week. Serving were Mrs. Julia Jordan, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Olga Bordsen, Mrs. Rose Watson and Mrs. Windhurst. Mrs. Hobbs also thanked Dan Harris, manager of the bank, for his cooperation.

Trustees Can Not Sell To Schools

The district attorney's office has issued a rule prohibiting a trustee from selling an insurance policy to any school.

Earlier this year a ruling by the state attorney general's office prohibited all business transactions between any school board member and any school district. However, this was modified to allow business dealings by a trustee with any district except his own.

A ruling by District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis declared that "it is our opinion that under the existing law, school officers and teachers should not sell insurance to school districts."

Two Women Killed Crossing Highway

Two Sharp Park women were fatally injured last Thursday night when they were struck by an automobile as they were attempting to cross the Coast highway at Palomar avenue in Sharp Park.

Dead were Mrs. Anne Hoglund, 65, of Sharp Park, and Mrs. Eva Anderson, 52, also of Sharp Park.

The driver of the auto, Conrad F. Disck, 18, of Rockaway Beach, told highway patrolmen that the two women loomed in front of him and he was unable to avoid them. He was not cited.

Dematteis Urges County Group To Work On Problem

District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis Tuesday proposed this county organize its own committee to coordinate efforts of law enforcement agencies in coping with the juvenile drinking problem as a more efficient method than depending on a joint San Mateo-San Francisco county committee.

Originally, at a San Francisco meeting, he had suggested a coordinating committee from both counties, and his suggestion was accepted, and Dr. Herbert Clish, superintendent of San Francisco public schools, was made chairman of the new bi-county committee.

But, Tuesday Dematteis explained the committee he had in mind need not necessarily be composed of such organizations from both counties. Instead, he suggested a more efficient operation could be obtained from an organization of this kind operating exclusively in San Mateo county, and working with state board representatives here.

As for the juvenile drinking situation in this county, the district attorney said, "There is a problem here," but he said he does not think it is alarming or one that is "out of hand."

2500 Children Flock To Easter Egg Hunt Here

By Daniel Sienes

Threatening weather could not dampen the enthusiasm of over 2500 children as they combed the hills of Daly City for an Easter reward.

The three sites, Westlake, Frankfort and Gambetta reported capacity crowds, so much so that 4000 eggs could not quench the hunters' thirst.

Everyone, including the hunters, seemed satisfied as red, yellow and green prize eggs were turned in for a variety of gifts. Even the two year olds walked off with four prizes.

Much of the credit for the success of this hunt must go to Mrs. Heagney who, with her assistants the Girl Scouts, spent an exciting morning dyeing the 4000 eggs.

The Girl Scouts who dyed the eggs were: Mrs. Daman's troop No. 13, Mrs. Thompson's troop No. 31, and Mrs. Rentsch's troop No. 32.

At the top of Frankfort street, where the largest crowd was reported, R. Linhares, chairman, was in charge. Mrs. Gaymont was in charge of the five and under group. She was assisted by Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Eason, Mrs. Byrne and Mrs. Mullins.

The six to eight year group was handled by Mrs. Prisco, Mrs. Sooman and Mrs. Day. The older group was managed by Mrs. Kollman and Mrs. A. J. Chrystal. The area was also rendered service by Boy Scout Troop No. 249.

At the Westlake site the crowd was more than expected, but good planning avoided confusion. Don Woll was the chairman of this site. Mrs. Brandt, assited by Mrs. Spry, Mrs. Dier, Mrs. Shrene and Mrs. Bever's Girl Scout Troop No. 26 were in charge o fthe five and under group.

Mrs. Dunbar, assisted by Mrs. Paldi, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Wm. Georgi handled the nine to twelve group. The largest group, six to eight years, was managed by Mrs. Kruse, Mrs. Lieberman, Mrs. Molkenbuhr, Mrs. Bohner and Mrs. Bozzini.

At the Gambetta site, D. Sienes, chairman, was ably assisted by Mrs. Golladay who was in charge of the nine to twelve age group. Mrs. Vickers received plenty of help in the six to eight age group. The helpers were: Mrs. R. Donham, Mrs. M. Tholen, Mrs. J. Bertetta, Mrs. R. Foster, Mrs. J. Doyle, Mrs. E. Dennis (co-chairman) and Mrs. B. Kirby.

Mrs. Unger and Mrs. Heagney handled the five and under group.

The Daly City Recreation Department under Mr. Elman Rose, cannot extend adequate praise to those who worked so hard to make this event possible.

Aside from those already mentioned, the Recreation Department wishes to extend thanks to Mrs. Ennis and Mrs. Denning for securing prizes, to all P. T. A. and civic groups which participated, and also to the police and fire departments of the city for their invaluable assistance.

Man Cuts Himself Twice In Two Days—Gives Up

Mr. Navi, of 248 Los Olivos avenue, found Monday that trouble comes in bunches.

Navi was trying to cut some tape to bandage a finger which had been cut the day before. While making the effort, the knife slipped, cutting Navi deeply on the left thumb.

He was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for both injuries.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES

Although the recent horsemeat scandal in Illinois made novel newspaper headlines, there is nothing new about the sale of "bad meat." It has been going on for hundreds of years. The Book House For Children reports that "a butcher who sold bad meat in Medieval Europe was made to ride a rail through the streets of his town, with a piece of bad-smelling meat tied in front of his nose."

Cats Rescued From Three-Alarm Blaze

Chasers after fire engines and residents of the neighborhood around 73 Los Banos avenue are still shaking their heads over what they will probably refer to their grandchildren as "The Great Cat Fire of 1952."

At 2:20 o'clock Wednesday morning, Daly City fire trucks rolled out of the station and headed for a blaze that "was visible from miles away," according to Chief Elmer Kennedy.

When they arrived at 73 Los Banos, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wurz, they found no less than 40 cats—alley variety—frightened by the blaze and running at top speed, some of them resembling small balls of fire.

No injuries were sustained by the human inhabitants of the house, but Mrs. Wurz was taken to Junipero Serra hospital in a state of shock by Daly City police.

Police report that approximately eight cats died in the fire, three of which were injured and destroyed.

The remainder, though many were singed around the edges, escaped relatively unharmed.

Hero of the tragi-comedy was one unidentified fireman who discovered a cage full of kittens in one room and carried the small felines to safety.

Four fire engines answered the alarm and the fire was under control within 30 minutes of the report, says Kennedy. Damage was estimated at three to four thousand dollars.

According to police reports, Wurz arrived home from working a night shift and went to the kitchen for a cup of coffee. His wife joined him and lit a gas heater in the front room before doing so.

A few minutes later they smelled smoke and rushed out of the kitchen to find that the front of the house was a mass of flames. They escaped through a rear entrance.

Damage from the fire was extensive and the living room, bedroom and kitchen were completely gutted, Chief Kennedy added.

Insurance Queries Answered By VA

Mounting queries from Korea servicemen and their dependents who aren't sure about present U. S. insurance provisions for armed service personnel brought a reminder today from Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo county, that men in service in the Korean emergency are automatically protected by $10,000 free indemnity coverage during active duty and for 120 days after discharge.

Granger said Federal laws passed since the Korean conflict began call for indemnity payments of up to $10,000 to the survivors of servicemen whose death has occurred in service on and after June 27, 1950, or within 120 days after their separation.

The amount of any government life insurance policies carried by the servicemen is deducted from the free indemnity payment, Granger explained, so that total insurance and indemnity payments do not exceed $10,000.

Thus if a serviceman held a full $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy, his beneficiary would receive insurance payments on that policy and would not be entitled to indemnity benefits, the Service Officer continued. If the serviceman held $5,000 in NSLI coverage, his beneficiary would receive that benefit plus another $5,000 in indemnity payments.

"When a serviceman's death occurs in active duty and it appears he was partly covered by his own government life insurance policy, it's advisable to send in claims for both the life insurance and the free indemnity, in order to obtain with minimum delay the full $10,000 benefit," Granger pointed out.

Complete information on armed service indemnity and insurance coverage is available without charge at the Veterans Service Office's new location at 517 Marshall street, Redwood City (directly in back of the Courthouse). The office also aids in filling out the necessary forms for servicemen's beneficiaries who want to file their claims for insurance benefits.

Liberty Monument, dedicated to the city by Adolph Sutro in 1887, stands atop Mt. Olympus, one of San Francisco's landmarks.
